WHITEWASHING .- As this is the time of year then one desires to renovate the interior of h dwolling as well as to improve the appearance of es and outhouses, we place before ou readers a most excellent recipe for mixing white wash: "Take a clean, water-tight barrel, or other suitable cask, and put into it a half bushel of lime. ick it by pouring water over it, boiling hot, and in sufficient quantity to cover it five inches water, and add two pounds of sul of zine and one of common salt. These will cause the wash to harden, and prevent its crack ng, which gives an unseemly appearance to the lesirable, a beautiful cream color may be added to the above wash by adding three ands of yellow ochre; or a good pearl or lead color, by adding lamp, vine or ivory black. colored inexperienced youth, to whom was given a five dollar bill, by one J. Lopez, that he might take ten cents out of it to pay himself for a job, and who went to change the bill, but never came back, and who when he was caught, admitted he had bought a way of the color by the color of th night a pair of shoes with part of the money, was locked up for ten days, which will save so rauch wear of his sole leather.

Jelia Smoke, a colored woman who was brought to the Guard House in a cart, and did not make her appearance before his honor, was accused by a girl named Elvira, of stealing a few days ago a sum of money from out the mattrass of the prosecutrix and of blowing it out, and, also of visiting her room on Tuesday night and attempting to carry off a bundle of clothes, but being detected and threatened with the police, laid the apparel on the bed, and finish ed the evenings performance by raising the window which was near thirty feet high, and making ar which was hear thirty feet high, and making an extraordinary leap to the ground. As there appa-rently were no bones lroken, it is rational to sup-pose that her head struck first. His Honor decided that if she was really hurt she should be sent to the hospital, but if um. ured she should be locked up for ten days.

A case of carrying concealed weapons, w dered to be sent to the Provost Marshal. Two or three cases of determined opposition to the present temperance agitation which is perva-ding the Eastern States were brought up, and discussed, with his honor, who to judge by his manner was called, John Phillips, Esq., appearing for the After some challenges the Jury were organized and the witnesses were examined. From their testimony it appeared that shortly after the close of the war some Cotton was stolen from the plan-tation of Mr. MUIRHEAD, in Christ Church Parish, which was subsequently found to be in the possession of HELENA PLODGES, then SMITH, who kept s store at the corner of Concord and March streets The prosecution went to prove that the Cottor was received, knowing it to be stolen, and was sed from irresponsible parties, but the de fence argued that when the Cotton was rafted to the city by the negroes it was at that time when no questions were asked as to the ownership, bu bargains were made by every one, especially regarding Cotton. The Judge briefly summed up the leading points and charged the Jury, who, without leaving their scats, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged.

The Grand Jury, through their foreman, return ed the following bills with their findings.

The State vs. Bichard Murrhy and Charles
Satte, two indictments for kidnapping seamen.

The State vs. JOHN PENDERS, JAS. SMITH and THOMAS RILEY, for boarding a vessel and not wearing a license. True Bill.

The State rs. Nelson Berwick and Jas. Harn's alias Harrison, Burglary and larceny. True Bill Jas. P. Rose, Mary E. Bolloude and Mary Bol JAS. F. Does, mass a con, were arraigned and plead not guilty. Their Counsel R. W. Sarmors, Esq., moved that the irial be postponed to Saturday and the females be released upon bail, which was granted, and the Court adjourned.

SOMETHING NEW .- The citizens of this staid old Sourthing New.—The citizens of this stand our town were somewhat startled yesterday after-ternoon, to observe a high buggy rapidly moving down the street behind four pair of fine horses. The four-in-hand team attracted considerable atontion, and was supposed by some uncivilized The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremeadous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure un-assisted. Add to this the unheaday influences which heathens to be the forerunner of a circus, but the when the Jockey club was in its glory, and a four-in-haud not such a rare sight. We congratulate the for-tunate possessor on his acquisition, and trust that the issentiale produced at this seases by the change from the rigor of Wister to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in per-fect health without reinforcing the physical energies. But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adultera-ted stimulants. There is no poisee in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-bested rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. it does not produce a revolution in the style of vehicles, but until this does take place.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY cessity for insuring property has long been known but it is only recently that the principle of extend-ing this insurance to the life of the party was adopted. Since that time numerous companies have been formed for this purpose, and the patron age of the public proves that they have established themselves firmly in their confidence. In our own city several companies have opened offices and the agents proffer their services to the people. Among these we would direct attention to the Southern Life Insurance Company. Few corporations can show a more healthy exhibit of their assets and liabilities than is presented in their advertisement in another column, and as the principal object is to be insured in a strong and good company, we would advise those wishing to insure to apply to Mr. W. PANNALL, the agent of this company, and the information he can farnish will convince them that they have come to the right place. The of-fice is over the Bank of Charleston, and the agent, Mr. Pannall, is a young Kentuckian, who has de-termined to make Charleston his future home.

POMOLOGY.—There are few cities without a suburban population, who, apart from the smoke, dust and noise of the streets, can employ their time in raisin; the "kindly fruits of the earth." This "rus in urbe" is one of the principal charms of a large city, and the farms that are on the outskirts are both a source of profit to the owner, and of pleasure to the citizen.

Charleston Neck was once composed wholly of these farms, but as the property increased in value it was cut up into building lots, and the farmors moved further into the country. At present, Line street is the boundary of the city proper, but beyond that, the cultivated lands cor the farms are of all sizes, from a few acres to a TO. O. F.-R. W GRAND LODGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The completion of the street railroad to the head of Rulledge street, enabled many persons to visit these farms, and from the time the first strawberry was seen above ground there has been a conry was seen above ground there has been a con-stant stream of customers. Nunan's farm on the street of the same name has long been the rondezvous for epicures, and the reputation of his early strawberries extends from Charleston to the They have been shipped by overy steamer, yet the supply seems inexhaustible, and promis to continue during the summer. To ested in agriculture a visit to Nunan's farm would oth please and interest; for his time is not dev ted to strawberries, but is divided between the different products to be found on a well conducted arm. To speak of the early peas, cabbages, tomsto speak of the early peas, cabbages, toms-toes, oranges, grapes, and the combination of fruits, flowers and vegetables that grow in luxuri-ance on this spot, would be an impossibility, and we advise all who wish to spend a few hours pleas-antly to pay Mr. News, a spend a few hours pleasantly to pay Mr. NUNAN a visit-certainly the strawberry season is over.

The Greenville and Columbia Railroad. 3 To the Editor of the Daily News:

Human nature is disposed to grumble, more particularly in this age of steam and two-forty progress. Every thing must be done in a hurry, from ress. Every timing must be defined in a marry, flow reconstruction down, without making any allow-ances whatever. Some people would grumble if they were in Paradise. "Sich, however, says Sax LICK, i · nater."

We have recently heard several, yes divers com plaints alleged against the Greenville and Columbia Railroad in respect to transportation of freight. New, if those who make these complaints understood the peculiar difficulties under which this road labors at the present, and has for sometime, they would, likely, be more indulgent. The Greenville and Columbia Railroad has, to our knowledge, only about thirty-five care for transportation of freight. They have been receiving on an average per day for months thirty car loads of freight from the South Carolina Railroad alone, also freight from the Charlotte and South Carolina Railroad, besides local freight from the catoms resircad, besides local freight from the city. It is impossible for the agent at Columbia to have on hand, at any time, more than fifteen cars, for some must always be on the road. It will be seen, therefore, by any reasonable man that it is a matter of the columbia. that it is a matter of impossibility for the agent to send off the freight at once when he receives to send off the freight at once when he receives far more than he has cars for transportation. Hence the cause of delay. We know the agent (Mr. R. H. Walton). He is an obliging, stirring man, and has done every thing in his power to facilitate the transportation of freight. Under his charge are three clerks, who labor assiduously and diligently from 6 A.M. until 9 P.M. Now hat more can be done?

We trust that at an early date all this will be obviated, and a sufficient number of cars on the road to transport any quantity of freight. Keep EQUITY.
